 The whole U.S. war effort was in trouble and that we wanted out."
 "Wait W. Rostow, the President's special assistant for international security affairs, is reported to be among the more optimistic administration officials."
 Secretary of State Dean Rusk, on the other hand, is said to be among those less hopeful of any speedy results.
 A third possibility cited by some officials is that the North Vietnamese leadership has simply decided that the time has come to adopt the "fight and negotiate" strategy which they have been talking about for more than a year, as American officials knew from captured Communist documents.
 Peace prospects are sure to be discussed by Johnson and his top military and diplomatic officials during their weekend conference in Hawaii.
 Administration aides said, however, that on the basis of present knowledge no one could go beyond listing the various possible results of the current maneuvering in trying to decide which one was most likely.
 One of the difficulties in trying to arrive at harder conclusions is that all the events have developed so rapidly that U.S. officials have had very little time in which to collect new intelligence for making judgments.
 It was only five days ago—on Sunday night—that Johnson announced he was imposing a limit on areas for attack in North Vietnam, which would eliminate 90 per cent of the population and most of the territory from air strikes.

Trumbo Wants to Head the Young Demos

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Fayetteville Mayor Don Trumbo said Thursday he is interested in seeking the presidency of the Arkansas Young Democrat Clubs.
 Trumbo made the statement after YDC President Roy Lee Hight said he would not seek re-election. Hight will apparently devote his time to his position as field secretary to Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark.
 The group will select a president when it meets April 19-21 at Hot Springs.

Death Sure to Be Issue in Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — The violent death of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. disrupted the 1968 political campaign and some politicians say it could remain a factor through the November elections.
 Political leaders, expressing shock and sorrow, also stressed the assassination could spur Congress to pass a pending civil rights bill.

Others viewed the assassination as one more indication of a society too often prone to resort to violence rather than lawful means to settle deep problems.
 The immediate plans of the several presidential contenders were not clear but it seemed likely campaigning would be halted for a time.
 Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., proposed a week of national mourning.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey gave news of the assassination Thursday night to 2,700 people attending the biggest Democratic fund-raising dinner of the year and the affair here was abruptly called off.
 President Johnson canceled a scheduled appearance at the dinner.

King's assassination dwarfed the biggest political news of the day, which occurred hours before the slaying: Humphrey's near announcement in Pittsburgh that he would seek the Democratic presidential nomination.

The vice president told an audience of labor leaders: "If we stick together a little longer, we will be together a lot longer."
 But Humphrey indicated he was withholding his announcement until after Johnson's Vietnam talks in Hawaii.

California Gov. Ronald Reagan, considered a potential contender for the Republican presidential nomination, said King's death was "a shocking act of violence that solves none of the nation's problems."

Reagan added the assassination is more evidence of what he termed a moral sickness affecting the nation.
 A Democrat agreed. "We are steeped in violence," said Sen. Frank Church of Idaho. "It is the curse of the land."

Political developments that occurred before King's death included:
 —Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz urged Humphrey to run for president. His suggestion was greeted with loud standing applause at a meeting of 1,400 members of the International Union of Operating Engineers in Miami Beach.
 Wirtz is the first Cabinet member to endorse a candidate since Johnson withdrew from the race last Sunday.
 —Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York, already a Democratic presidential contender, launched his critical Indiana primary campaign. It will be his first head-on clash with Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn.

At Notre Dame University, Kennedy hinted he would withhold comment on the Vietnam issue during the current peace bid.
 —McCarthy won an enthusiastic reception at the University of California at Berkeley. He opened his California campaign with an attack on the draft.

Boswell Is Undecided on Running

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Ted Boswell, a Little Rock attorney, said Thursday it is unlikely he will make a final decision on whether to enter the Democratic gubernatorial race for at least two weeks.

Boswell said he doubted seriously whether either of the two Democratic candidates who have announced "will be able to provide the necessary party leadership unless and until they have declared forcefully and convincingly their belief in reform in government."

Rep. Marion Crank of Foreman and Frank Whitbeck, a Little Rock insurance executive, announced Wednesday they would seek the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.
 Boswell said the party's nominee must be capable of restoring public confidence and that the nominee would find it difficult to win "unless he can successfully reconstruct the wreckage of the present Democratic party in Arkansas."

Boswell said the young people in the state had been denied proper recognition and participation in government affairs for many years and that the next governor should be chosen from that group.

157,578 Gets Tax Refunds

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Little Rock District of the Internal Revenue Service said Thursday that 157,578 Arkansas taxpayers had been mailed income tax refund checks totaling $20,252,047 through March 30.

Officials said 306,694 income tax returns had been filed by Arkansans by the end of March and that another 250,000 are expected by the April 15 filing deadline. The refunds averaged about $130 a check.

Would Abolish County-wide School Dist.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Education Commissioner A. W. Ford said Thursday that small, county-wide school districts had "outlived their usefulness" and suggested that the state legislature move to eliminate such districts.

Ford said there were about 20 such districts with less than 350 students.

Ford said the "old approach" to school consolidation was obsolete. He suggested that the districts be abolished by the legislature instead of by an initiated act.

2 Arkansans Charged With Robbery

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Gene E. Collins, 31, of Jacksonville, Ark., and a woman identified as his wife, Shelia Ann Collins of Clarendon, Ark., have been bound over to Vanderburgh County Circuit Court here on preliminary charges of armed robbery.

Authorities said Collins recently escaped from the Jefferson County Jail at Pine Bluff, Ark. The pair were captured earlier this week on a train after eluding police in a foot chase. The train was preparing to leave Evansville.

The charges against Collins and his wife stemmed from a $35 robbery of an Evansville service station Tuesday night.

Thieu Warns South Must Be Included

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH
 Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu has warned the United States that he may repudiate any political agreement on Vietnam in which Saigon has no say, diplomatic sources reported today.

Thieu summoned the envoys of the allied governments to the presidential palace Thursday to express his misgivings over the coming U.S. contacts with Hanoi.

Authoritative informants said Thieu told the diplomats that the United States has no right to discuss any political questions concerning Vietnam in its direct talks with Hanoi.

Thieu also re-emphasized the position of the Saigon government that:

— There can be no coalition government including the Communists in South Vietnam.

— Saigon will not accept a separate Viet Cong delegation at any forthcoming peace conference, and — Saigon will not accept peace terms which include the neutralization of South Vietnam.

American officials said they were not surprised by Thieu's position and "not necessarily in disagreement with it."

"We have always said we don't want to impose a political solution on Vietnam, that it's up to the Vietnamese to decide," a U.S. spokesman said.

A Saigon government communique issued after Thieu's meeting with the ambassadors welcomed moves to bring an early end to the war "in justice and freedom."

It said the allies had agreed to remain "in constant consultations on any points of substance or decisions" which might arise in the talks with Hanoi.

South Vietnamese officials from Thieu on down were clearly worried that the talks could be the beginning of a snowballing succession of peace moves which might end with an American withdrawal from Vietnam.

Thieu told a news conference Tuesday that if the United States should withdraw from Vietnam, the Saigon government will fight on alone—It possible with the help of its other allies.

First to File for Office of Lt. Gov.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — J. Gilbert Leigh, 54, of Little Rock became the first person to file for the office of lieutenant governor when he paid his filing fee Thursday.

Leigh filed as a Democratic candidate but said he didn't plan to be the running mate of any particular gubernatorial candidate.

"I just don't want to be obligated if I can help it," he said.

Leigh said he would file his corrupt practices pledge this morning.

Leigh said his only active political experience had been as a justice of the peace in Big Rock Township.

"I try to be pretty moderate," he said. "Since we came up with a two-party system here in Arkansas I have stayed pretty strongly with the Democrats."

Awards Given to High School Newspapers

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Little Rock Central High School captured three of the nine individual events and won sweepstakes honors in Journalism Day at Arkansas State University here Thursday.

Paragould finished second, followed by Jacksonville and Wynne. More than 250 students from 20 schools participated in the competition.

Collins Herwigway of Little Rock Central won in copy reading and headline writing. Chris Tucker of Wynne was victorious in sports writing and radio news writing.

Others winners were: Andy Hankins, Little Rock Central, radio announcing; Tereza Mantz, Blytheville, editorial writing; Vernon Moore, Bay, feature writing and Billy Glenn of Stuttgart, news writing.

Another cool night is forecast for Arkansas tonight with temperatures dropping below freezing in northern areas and scattered frost likely in southern areas.

Slightly warmer temperatures are forecast for Saturday.

A new low pressure area was developing over Nevada this morning and this system should bring increasing cloudiness and a chance of showers to Arkansas by Sunday.

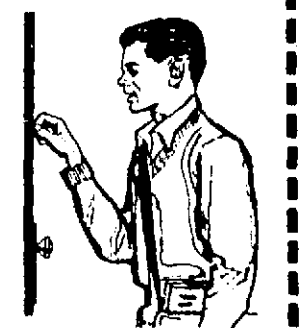

The warming is not expected

Career of Boston Star Doubtful

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer
BOSTON (AP) — Tony Conigliaro, one of baseball's top sluggers who won the American League home run title at the age of 20 in 1965, appeared to have reached the end of the line today. The young outfielder was the victim of an accidental beating last August.

A trio of eye specialists gave Conigliaro and the Boston Red Sox the shocking news Thursday — his vision in the left eye is deteriorating, he may have to undergo surgery and "his baseball future at the present time is very doubtful."

Sat Conigliaro, Tony's father and confidant, indicated that he and Tony were resigned to the fact that the Red Sox star's playing days are over.

"Billy and Richie will have to carry on the Conigliaro name in baseball — and they'll do it," the father said at the family home in nearby Swampscott. "Tony is going to rest around home for a month before his next appointment with the doctor."

Billy Conigliaro, 20, is expected to play for the Red Sox farm club at Pittsfield in the Eastern League this season. Kid brother Richie attends Swampscott High School.

Tony signed with the Red Sox for a reported $20,000 bonus in September, 1962. He spent one year in the low minors, at Wellsboro of the New York-Penn League, and moved up to the Red Sox as a 19-year-old rookie in 1964.

The kid belted 24 homers while hitting .290. In 1965, he led the league with 32 homers and appeared on the way to stardom.

Tony slipped to 28 homers, but had 93 runs batted in the next year. Then he added 20 homers last season when fate stepped in.

On Aug. 18, in a night game against the California Angels at Fenway Park, Conigliaro was hit on the side of the face by a fast ball thrown by right-hander Jack Hamilton. Tony collapsed with a fractured left cheekbone and a serious eye injury.

Sidelined for the remainder of the season, including the World Series, Conigliaro attempted to come back this spring. He managed just five hits in 66 times at bat. He struck out 22 times, including eight of his last 10 trips to the plate, before he flew home for an Army Reserve meeting and an examination by the eye doctors.

Although stunned by the outcome of the examinations, Tony said that while he has suffered a "tough break" he considers himself a "lucky guy."

"I've had an opportunity to realize my lifetime ambition — to be a big league ballplayer and to play with the greatest bunch of guys in the world," said Tony, who was 23 last Jan. 27. Conigliaro hit 104 homers in his four years with the Red Sox.

Improve Your Golf Game With Polybutadiene

By TOMMY THOMAS
NEA Sports Writer
NEW YORK — (NEA) — An outfit called Princeton Chemical Research has developed a new sphere which is made with "a polymer, polybutadiene, that is cured in the presence of a monomer compound."

Golfers of the world, be alerted!
"This results," says the company, "in a long cross-linked, three-dimensional network that imparts extreme toughness and correct compression . . . assuring lively, accurate and consistent behavior."

Put in simpler terms, this means the wonders of science have created a golf ball that will probably be lost before it is worn out by the constant bashing of 7-irons and trees.

Dr. Calvin Wolf, developer and manufacturer of the solid, molded, one-piece ball that supposedly can't be cut, nicked or knocked "out of the round," says his product is virtually indestructible and "represents the most significant advance in design since 1899 when the conventional 3-part ball was developed."

Same Story Likely in Playoffs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
It will be a brand new playoff series with the outcome most likely riding on the same old story—the duel between Bill Russell and Wilt Chamberlain.

Player-coach Russell leads his Boston Celtics against the Philadelphia 76ers and Chamberlain tonight at Philadelphia in the first game of the best-of-7 Eastern Division final of the National Basketball Association playoffs.

The Western Division final also gets under way, at Los Angeles between the San Francisco Warriors and the Los Angeles Lakers.

"I realize that Boston will be as fanatical in trying to regain the championship from us as we were last year to take it away from them," 76ers Coach Alex Hannum said Thursday, "but we still should win in six games."

The 76ers beat Boston in five games last year, ending the Celtics' nine-year reign as NBA champions.

The two clubs reached this year's Eastern final by winning semifinal sets in six games—Philadelphia against New York and Boston against Detroit.

Philadelphia's victory was especially tough. The 76ers lost Billy Cunningham with a broken wrist, Luke Jackson suffered a pulled hamstring muscle and Wally Jones hurt a knee.

Jackson still is slowed by his injury, but Jones appears okay and Johnny Green has been filling in well for Cunningham.

Both teams have good outside shooters, players who can come off the bench and wreak open a game and plenty of muscle. But the key will be Chamberlain vs. Russell.

San Francisco, which upset Western Division champion St. Louis 4-2, will be going against a well-rested Los Angeles team. The Lakers had little difficulty in winning their series against Chicago 4-1.

The Warriors will be counting heavily on Jeff Mullins, who carried most of the scoring load against St. Louis, Los Angeles once again will be counting on its 1-2 punch of Elgin Baylor and Jerry West.

St. Louis Is Winner in Hockey Play

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Philadelphia Spectrum has its roof back in place but Keith Allen, coach of the National Hockey League Flyers, is ready to flip his lid.

Philadelphia's West Division champs managed just 14 shots and bowed 1-0 to St. Louis Thursday night as the National Hockey League playoffs got under way.

The loss cost Philadelphia its home ice advantage and the Flyers were the only home team to bow in opening round Stanley Cup games. Elsewhere, New York dropped Chicago 3-1, Montreal nipped Boston 2-1 and Los Angeles edged Minnesota 2-1.

Glenn Hall, St. Louis' veteran goalie, had an easy time with the Flyers but the Blues didn't get the winning goal until the final six minutes when Jim Roberts deflected a shot past Bernie Parent.

The game marked the return home of the Flyers, who were forced to play 21 of their final 24 regular season games on the road when the Spectrum's roof was damaged by high winds.

"It was a big game," said Allen, whose team now must win at least one game on the road to beat the Blues in the best-of-7 series. "He (Hall) didn't have much work. We didn't have many tough shots."

Scotty Bowman, coach of the Blues, said simply, "I just hope we win the last game."

Hall's old teammates, the Chicago Black Hawks, had a tougher time against New York. The fired-up Rangers unloaded 44 shots at Denis DeJordy and fore-checked fiercely in front of Ed Giacomin.

"Our team was ready," smiled Emile Francis, manager-coach of the Rangers, who finished second in the NHL's East Division. New York got its goals from Orland Kurtenbach, Harry Howell and Rod Gilbert.

Gilbert's third-period goal was his first this year against the Black Hawks. He had 29 regular season goals but none in his last 12 games.

Veteran Claude Provost scored Montreal's decisive goal against Boston with less than five minutes to play. Checked heavily by defenseman Dallas Smith, Provost fell to the ice, but deflected Ted Harris' shot behind Bruins' goalie Gerry Cheevers for the winner.

"I got my stick on the puck just in time," said Provost. "I've missed those kind of shots hundreds of times, but tonight I was lucky."

Henri Richard and Boston's Ken Hodge had traded earlier goals.

Los Angeles built a 2-0 lead over Minnesota and stayed off the North Stars behind the strong goaltending of veteran Terry Sawchuk, participating in his 96th playoff game.

The North Stars beat Los Angeles six times and played two ties in their 10 meetings during the regular season.

IT'S OFFICIAL—The 1968 New York thoroughbred racing season was off and running recently, and the presence of Max Hirsch, dean of America's trainers, made it official. Hirsch watches from his box during opening day at Aqueduct. Olympic Hopefuls Shoot Good

By PAT THOMPSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — The 45-man U.S. Olympics Basketball Selection committee has its work cut out: only five of the 80 candidates who played Thursday failed to score.

Dead-eye shooting and the dunk were big successes of the first round. Attendance and the four NCAA teams were busts.

"Some of these boys are fantastic shooters," said Henry Iba of Oklahoma State, who will coach the U.S. team in the Olympic Games this fall in Mexico City.

"We might have better shooters than 1961. They're as quick, move as well as those in the 1964 trials. They don't have the inside strength as in 1964."

The Junior College All-Stars scored the biggest victory of the four games, watched by only 1,600 persons, by beating the NCAA Blue team 88-70.

The nation's scoring leader this season, was held to six points and 7-foot Tom Boerwinkle of Tennessee, tallest man in the tournament, to eight.

A well-drilled Armed Forces team trimmed the NCAA Red team 81-78, the NAIA All-Stars beat the NCAA White team 84-77 and the AAU stopped the NCAA College Division 74-58.

Each team plays one game today and one Saturday with the 12-man Olympic team and six alternates to be announced Sunday.

The Junior College All-Stars play the NAIA at 9:30 p.m., EST, and the AAU battles the armed forces at 11 p.m. The NCAA Reds and Whites clash at 4 p.m. with the College Division and Blues at 5:30 p.m.

Clever Foot to Be Tested in Big Race

Clever Foot, a proven sprinter with five straight stakes successes, will be tested over a distance of ground Saturday in the $100,000-added Governor's Gold Cup at Bowie.

Kaul King won the 1-1-16 mile test for Kentucky Derby-age colts in 1966, the last year it was held, and went on to victories in the Derby and the Preakness.

The distance will not be the only test for Clever Foot who will be going more than seven furlongs for the first time. Mrs. Bernard P. Bond's Watch Your Step colt is expected to be opposed by 14 other 3-year-olds.

If all 15 start, the gross would be $120,100 with $78,065 to the winner, making it the richest race ever at Bowie.

Several Derby eligibles also will go postward in the $50,000-added Arkansas Derby at Oaklawn Park and the $25,000-added Gold Rush Stakes at Golden Gate Fields.

Older horses will go in the invitational, $125,000 San Juan Capistrano Handicap at Santa Anita, and Straight Deal will oppose the boys in the $50,000-added Excelsior Handicap at Aqueduct.

Casper Has the Urge to Go Back

By KENALYTA
Associated Press Sports Writer
GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Billy Casper told his wife Shirley during the Los Angeles Open golf tournament (which he won) last January, "All of a sudden I feel I have to go back to visit the boys overseas."

He had entertained and cheered U.S. forces in Vietnam last year and decided he should return. A few weeks later he was on his way.

The two-time U.S. Open champion — winner of a quarter-million dollars on the golf tour in the last two years — visited servicemen in the Philippines, Thailand, Okinawa and Japan.

He entertained them with clinics and stories of the tour.

"I must have visited 500 wounded men in hospitals," he recalled after his first round 65 gave him a share of the lead in the $137,500 Greater Greensboro Open with Julius Boros Thursday.

It was Casper's first competition on the tour in about two months.

He finished with eight birdies, five in succession on the back nine, which he played first. After his five-under 39, he moved to the front nine, where he scored 35, one under par.

Boros, 48-year-old marvel of the tour, also played the back nine first and shot 31. His round included an eagle and five birdies.

They were one shot ahead of lanky Al Geiberger, who shot 32-34—66 and was denied a share of the lead by a missed 18-inch putt.

Then came Joe Campbell, Terry Dill and first-year pro Bob E. Smith at 67.

Defending champion George Archer was one of five 68 shooters and 14 were in at 69.

The latter group included Arnold Palmer, Gary Player and Tom Weiskopf, the year's top money winner.

Joe Culmone, shares top weight of 122 pounds with Elmerdori's Verbatim and Peter Fuller's Dancer's Image. John Rotz has the mount on Verbatim and Bobby Ussery will be up on Dancer's Image.

Sailors Song, Royal Table, Mr. Crozy, Judge Kilday and Problem Solver are Derby hopefuls expected to run in 1 1/4 mile Arkansas Derby, while Proper Proof and Hall to Racing are Derby eligibles slated to go in the one-mile Gold Rush Stakes.

Cardinals Pounded by Athletics

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Oakland's Rick Monday broke out of a slump at the expense of the St. Louis Cardinals Thursday, but Red Schoendienst couldn't have cared less. He's too busy wondering about his relief pitching this year.

Monday ended his string of 20 hitless trips to the plate with two singles and a double as the Athletics pounded out a 12-2 victory over the defending National League champion Cardinals.

Five of the Oakland runs came off Mike Torrez in the fourth inning—he gave up eight altogether—and four more were wrested from Hal Gilson in the seventh.

Manager Schoendienst is hoping that both Torrez and Gilson can take up some slack in the Cardinal bullpen this year especially since Jack Lamabe, who provided help down the stretch last year, was out Thursday.

In other exhibition games Thursday, the New York Mets shut out San Francisco 6-0, Los Angeles downed Cleveland 8-3, the Chicago Cubs crushed the Chicago White Sox 11-6, Philadelphia blanked Boston 5-0, the New York Yankees beat Washington 8-2 and Minnesota beat Houston 3-1.

Oakland tagged St. Louis pitching for 14 hits, drew nine walks and took advantage of four errors: Jim Hunter held the Cards to four hits for six innings.

Jerry Koosman and Danny Frisella stopped the Giants on four hits and Ken Boswell had a two-run homer for the Mets. Tom Haller's second homer in as many days highlighted the Dodgers' victory. Claude Osteen pitched seven innings, giving up nine hits.

The Cubs bombed Gary Peters for seven runs in the first inning in which 11 men batted. Ron Santo and Al Spangler had homers for the Cubs and Duane Josephson had one for the White Sox.

Larry Jackson, Gary Wagner and Dick Hall blanked the Red Sox while Tony Taylor homered and Johnny Callison had two important singles for the Phillies.

The Yanks scored three unearned runs in the first inning while getting six walks off Barry Moore. Frank Howard hit a 480-foot homer for the Senators, the longest ever hit at the Fort Lauderdale Stadium.

Dean Chance and Ron Perranoski combined to stop Houston on four hits, Chance pitching until the eighth inning.

Each of the series is best-of-7 games.

CANDID CANDICE BERGEN, daughter of actor-ventriloquist Edgar Bergen, appears here in random shots made on location in Majorca, where she is filming "The Magus." A photographer in her own right, Candice looks even better on the other side of the lens. At upper right, she jokes with co-star Michael Caine.

Excerpts of Dr. King's Rally Speech

NEW YORK (AP) — Following are excerpts from Dr. Martin Luther King's "I have a dream" speech at the rally, Aug. 28, 1963, climaxing the civil rights march on Washington.

"Now is the time to make real the promises of democracy. Now is the time to rise from the dark and desolate valley of segregation to the sunlit path of racial justice. Now is the time to lift our nation from the quicksands of racial injustice to the solid rock of brotherhood. Now is the time to make justice a reality for all God's children.

"There will be neither rest nor tranquility in America until the Negro is granted his citizenship rights. The whirlwinds of revolt will continue to shake the foundations of our nation until the bright day of justice emerges.

"And that is something that I must say to my people who stand on the threshold which leads to the palace of justice. In the process of gaining our rightful place, we must not be guilty of wrongful deeds. Again and again we must rise to the majestic heights of meeting physical force with soul force.

"We can never be satisfied as long as the Negro is the victim of the unspeakable horrors of police brutality. We can never be satisfied as long as our bodies, heavy with the fatigue of travel, cannot gain lodging in the motels of the highways and the hotels of the cities.

"We can never be satisfied as long as our children are stripped of their selfhood and robbed of their dignity by signs stating 'for whites only.' We cannot be satisfied as long as the Negro in Mississippi cannot vote and the Negro in New York believes he has nothing for which to vote.

"No, we are not satisfied and we will not be satisfied until justice rolls down like water and righteousness like a mighty stream.

"Continue to work with the faith that honor in suffering is redemptive. Go back to Mississippi, go back to Alabama, go back to South Carolina, go back to Georgia, go back to Louisiana, go back to the slums and ghettos of our northern cities, knowing that somehow this situation can and will be changed. Let us not wallow in the valley of despair.

"Now, I say to you today, my friends, so even though we face the difficulties of today and tomorrow, I still have a dream. It is a dream deeply rooted in the American dream. I have a dream that one day this nation will rise up and live out the true meaning of its creed: 'We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal.'

"I have a dream that one day on the red hills of Georgia the sons of former slaveowners will be able to sit down together at the table of brotherhood.

"I have a dream that one day even the state of Mississippi, a state sweltering with the people's injustice, sweltering with the heat of oppression, will be transformed into an oasis of freedom and justice.

Today's column answers a problem we posed yesterday. The contract is seven no-trump. South is to make it against either a spade or a club lead.
The spade lead gives South a chance to go wrong at trick one. If he lets the spade run around to his ace, he won't be able to make the contract. Instead he must go right up with dummy's king and run off five diamond tricks. He discards the jack and two other clubs from his own hand. Then he leads a spade to his ace.
This will leave East with six cards. Five must be hearts. If the other is the king of clubs, South runs off the four top hearts and West won't be able to protect both black suits. If the other is the jack of spades, West will be able to hang on to the queen and one club, whereupon South will make the last two tricks by taking a club finesse. Remember, he was careful to hold a small club—not the jack.
Against a club lead, South rises with dummy's ace and

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG
Shampooing Will Help Seborrheic Dermatitis
By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—A dermatologist has prescribed Texacort for my seborrheic dermatitis. Will this scalp lotion cure it or just control it? What is the cause of this condition? Is it contagious? Will a mild hair rinse aggravate it?

A—No.
Q—My husband has unsightly dandruff in his eyebrows. How can it be controlled?

A—Rubbing the affected parts with a 5 percent sulfur, greaseless ointment once or twice a day is an old standby remedy. A new product, betamethasone valerate (Valisone Cream), which requires a prescription, has been found to give excellent results in about 90 percent of those who have used it. It is colorless, greaseless and odorless.

Q—What foods should I avoid and what medication should I use to control seborrhea?

A—For this condition some doctors recommend a diet that is low in fat and carbohydrate and high in protein with avoidance of chocolate and alcohol, but there is a growing belief among skin specialists that diet is not an important factor in control. You should shampoo from one to three times a week with an antidandruff shampoo. There are dozens of scalp lotions for the treatment of this disease. You may have to try several before you find one that helps you. Even with the best of treatment flareups may occur.

Q—I have seborrhea on my runs off the same five diamonds and makes the same three club discards. If East discards his king of clubs and one spade, South has the same spade-club squeeze against West. East's best plan is to discard two spades and hold the king of clubs.

Now South comes to his hand with the ace of spades and cashes his four heart tricks. West will throw all his clubs and hold the queen-eight of spades as his last two cards. East will hold the good heart and the king of clubs while dummy will hold the king-nine of spades. South will take the spade finesse for the last two tricks.
If you aren't tired of this hand by now, see if you can make it by running hearts before you run diamonds. You can—except against a spade lead.
(Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

No. Gwendolyn, "hair restorer" isn't a tonic for sick rabbits.

There's nothing like a cold shower to make a fellow rush out and pay his gas bill.

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
Pass	1 ♠	Pass	1 ♠
Pass	4 ♠	Pass	3 ♠

You, South, hold:
♠ A K Q 6 5 4 ♣ K Q J 10 7 4
What do you do now?
A—We would bid six clubs but we might be making a serious mistake. Either a pass or a five club bid might be better and the percentage favors this bid. We don't like four no-trump with a void suit.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Instead of bidding four spades, your partner bids three diamonds over three clubs. What do you do now?

-THE GOLDEN RULE

To VICTORY

...that is the cry of the multitude. Today we join the happy throngs around the earth as we shout together, "Hosanna!" Whatever the morrow may hold of suffering, today we declare to the world... "Christ has come." Because we are in His company, we know that God ultimately will be sovereign over all the world. We are confident that goodness is stronger than evil. We are sure love will triumph over hate. Whatever a Friday of crucifixion may bring of temporary defeat, we know life will triumph over death, and the Christian way will resolve itself supremely in the final destiny. Then Palm Sunday is a day to celebrate and set up our banner of hope. "For right is right as God is and right the day must win." This hope will convert, for us, spiritual defeat into eternal victory.

You In The Church
The Church Is You
... form a combination
for good. Every man, woman and child needs
the influence of the church. In, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us
support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

Many Feel Intent of Law Breached

WASHINGTON (AP) — A favorite belief around Congress is that theirs is a government of laws, not of men. Like the balanced budget, early adjournment and other fond congressional dreams, it frequently proves illusory.

Last year, after considerable effort and painful compromising, Congress voted to continue the antipoverty program with, it thought, a major change in the way Community Action programs operated.

Instead of having them run by private groups operating independently of the local government, Congress said elected public officials should either direct the programs themselves or pick the agency that does.

To its authors, the language of the amendment seemed clear and unequivocal: States, counties or city governments would take over the Community Action agencies. The amendment's opponents, felt the same way. They dubbed it the "city hall" amendment and said it put the Community Action agencies under the thumb of politicians.

So it came as something of a shock to supporters of the change when the Office of Economic Opportunity issued its proposed guidelines last month to implement the new law. Their main thrust seemed to be to encourage public officials to keep out of the picture and designate existing agencies to carry on.

As chief sponsor of the amendment, Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., registered the heaviest shock.

"The seriousness of this breach of congressional intent is so profound," she told the chairman of the Education and Labor Committee, that OEO officials should be called before the committee to explain.

She accused the OEO of ignoring the new role for the states envisioned by the amendment and of trying to discourage cities and counties from becoming WASHINGTON (AP) — L.R. Cochran of Salem, Ark., manager of the North Arkansas Electric Cooperative, told a Senate and House Agriculture Appropriation Subcommittee Wednesday that proposed cuts in loans to rural electric cooperatives would hamstring efforts to continue meeting power needs.

Community Action agencies themselves.

The National League of Cities and the National Association of Counties share Mrs. Green's view. In letters to the OEO, the League of Cities called the guidelines "extremely protective of the existing agencies" and the county group said they are "tilted to favor existing agencies."

The chief administrative officer of Los Angeles County was even blunter.

"If it were the intent of the OEO to interpret the Green amendment in such a way as to make it impossible for a county to designate itself as a Community Action agency," he wrote, "they have been eminently successful."

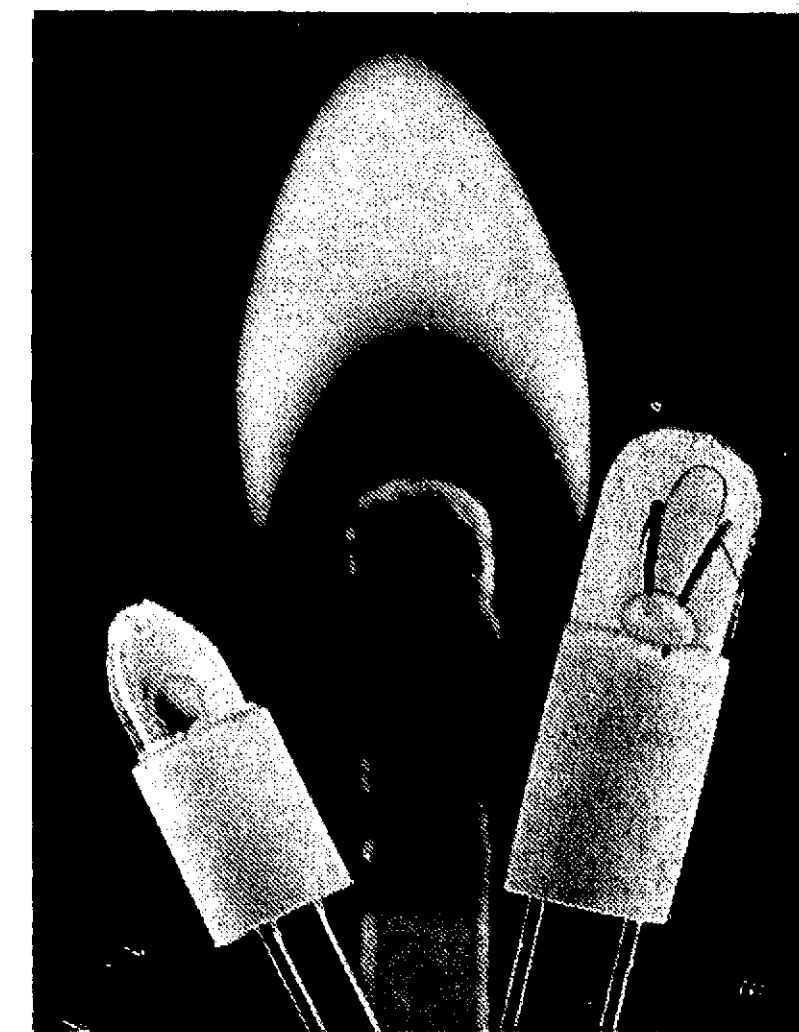

OEO has support for its position among Congress members who opposed the Green amendment. One of them, Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., says the guidelines are "in accord with the spirit and intent as well as the letter" of the law as enacted.

Mrs. Green is one of the most resourceful members of Congress, however, and it is likely the guidelines will undergo revisions before they go into effect. If not, the OEO is liable to find itself in money trouble with the House Appropriations Committee, which leans heavily toward Mrs. Green's interpretation of the antipoverty laws.

Whether this is a government of men or laws may be subject to dispute, but not the power of the purse.

FOLK FESTIVAL TIME IN THE OZARKS. Traditional singers and musicians from all over the Ozarks are busy "tuning up" for the Sixth Annual Arkansas Folk Festival in Mountain View, Arkansas April 18 through 21. An added attraction to this year's event includes the "Young Rackensackers School Festival" featuring music, singing, dancing and play-party games by School Children on Thursday night, April 18. Regular folk musicals by the "Rackensack people" will be heard Friday and Saturday nights. Sunday afternoon the singers break out their old song books for an afternoon of religious singing.

The Ozarks Foothills Handicraft Guild will have its annual sale of native Crafts such as whittling, doll-making, pottery and dozens of other items.

On Saturday at Timbo, eleven miles west of Mountain View, the local people will demonstrate primitive crafts such as spinning, weaving, soap-making, corn-grinding, etc. Visitors can also ride the old-time, mule-powered picnic swing (shown above).

Folkcrafts Featured at Annual Mountain Home View Festival

By LOU OBERSTE
Director of Publicity
Arkansas Publicity and Parks Commission

The well known Ozark folklorist Otto Ernest Rayburn, writing back in the early 40's, bemoaned the fact that: "The average Ozarkian does not realize the value of his heritage to himself and to the world, and is making no serious attempt to guard against the inroads of Twentieth Century civilization."

Rayburn, who was deeply attracted to the stalwart, independent, old-time Ozarker, was concerned that the arts and crafts of the hill country would be lost to modern convenience. He wrote: "The hillman is losing his distinctive traits and is becoming a drab, standardized American."

Today, a quarter of a century later, many of Mr. Rayburn's fears can be allayed; many of the modern day prodigy of the early Ozark settlers are taking steps to not only preserve the crafts and lore of their forefathers, but also to "showcase" their heritage in a series of folk-lore and craft carnivals.

One of the largest and most authentic of these folk events is the annual Arkansas Folk Festival and Craft Show held each spring at Mountain View, the county seat of Stone County, Arkansas.

It would be hard to imagine a more perfect setting to display the talents and ingenuity of the Ozark region than is found in the picturesque town of Mountain View and the nearby Timbo Valley in the spring. The surrounding hills are festooned with the pastel blooms of dogwoods and redbud trees, as local merchants dress their show windows with antique furniture, primitive tools and Indian artifacts. Tens of thousands of visitors pour into the usually quiet mountain village to enjoy the many events offered during the three-day festival.

A real carnival spirit is generated as the visitors mill around viewing the displays; visiting the craft show; or listening to the impromptu performances which erupt on the courthouse lawn as impatient local musicians break into a spontaneous hoedown, jig, or old-time "ballet." These unscheduled performances provide a preview of the more formal but no less spontaneous musical sessions held on Friday and Saturday nights at 7 and 9:30 by the Rackensack Society.

The High School Cafeteria hangs out the "standing room only" sign as the Rackensack people sing unpublished ballads handed down from generation to generation and render the play-party tunes of other times on the fiddle, guitar, dulcimer, banjo, French harp, mandolin and pickin' bow. Many serious students of folk music are fascinated by the "folk tuning" of the traditional instruments and tape recorders are much in evidence in the audience as collectors add a new tune to their folk library.

The arts and crafts of the hill country are presented at the Ozark Foothills Craft Guild Show and Sale on all three days of the festival. Over fifty craftsmen will display and demonstrate their skills with native materials and will give an insight into the ingenuity of the early pioneers whose survival without outside assistance depended upon their ability to utilize the products of a "bountiful nature." The early hillman had to depend upon his farm and nearby woods not only for his food, but also his clothing, tools and shelter.

The Guild members are limited to native materials in producing their products and many utilize the old-time methods and skills of their parents in making their homecrafts.

Weaving, carving, shucking, basketry and pottery-making are just a few of the skills that will be demonstrated. Bonnets from gingham and calico; character dolls with dough or apple faces; hand-carved tools and novelties; hand painted pictures and wood-petties will be among the items presented for sale.

The early hill people produced their crafts out of necessity and few items were sold; the market was many days travel away. Today, the market comes to the craftsmen as folklorists seek the unspooled homecrafts developed in the self-sustaining past age. The domestic crafts such as soap making, geese plucking, shingle riving and crosstie hewing, spinning, and hominy making, are actually demonstrated at the "Old-time crafts show" at nearby Timbo. Here, the neighbors proudly display their old-time skills, many of which they still practice because, in their opinion, the end products are better and, too, their yeoman heritage hates to see anything wasted.

A mule-powered merry-go-round at Timbo is a prime attraction with the younger set who often find the primitive ride an improvement over the modern-day carousel.

See for yourself if Mr. Rayburn's fears were justified. I believe you will find the modern Ozarkian is not drab, but colorful and proud of his heritage; not standardized, but still very much an individualist.

Plan now to enjoy the festivities at Mountain View, April 19-21. There will be some activity going on at all times. Parades are planned for Friday and Saturday; an old-time dress revue, at 10, Saturday morning; and a Rodeo Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

Young. "He also will confer with federal, state and local law enforcement officers concerning last night's assassination," the spokesman said.

Violence, including arson and shooting, broke out in several American cities. In Tallahassee, Fla., police said a white youth was burned to death after a firebomb went off 10 blocks from predominantly Negro Florida A&M University, where earlier small bands of snipers fired at police. There were no arrests.

Police said a white man was stabbed to death during violence in Washington. A Negro died of stab wounds in Harlem although it was not known if his death was related to disturbances there.

Police in Memphis shot and critically wounded one man after they said he opened fire on them. Two Detroit police officers were shot and wounded while patrolling in a predominantly Negro neighborhood.

Widespread looting and arson struck Harlem and Brooklyn's Bedford Stuyvesant section. More than 90 persons were arrested and scores injured.

Angry crowds burned and looted stores in a Negro neighborhood just two miles north of the White House in Washington. Some 50 persons were injured and 167 arrested.

Police in Jackson, Miss., fired tear gas at groups of Negroes on the Jackson State College campus. A white-owned supermarket in a Negro section was firebombed despite a Negro leader's pleas for nonviolence.

Disturbances were reported in Nashville, Newark, Boston and a number of smaller cities and towns.

The violence that swept some city streets accompanied the national outpouring of grief and sorrow that followed the death of King, the nation's leading advocate of nonviolence and a Nobel Prize winner.

President Johnson led the nation in mourning and tribute. In a nationwide television and radio appearance he called upon "every citizen to reject the blind violence that has struck down Dr. Martin Luther King."

But the violence flared despite his plea.

The officer said there are still North Vietnamese troops around Khe Sanh but "not in the force they were in a while back."

"My feeling is that they have a couple of regiments right around there with another regiment close by," he said. "A while back they had two divisions in there."

In round numbers, he said, the North Vietnamese have reduced their forces around Khe Sanh by 50 per cent, from 14,000 two months ago to about 7,000 presently. Other estimates of the force besieging Khe Sanh have run as high as 40,000 in the past two months.

Reaction to Shooting of Dr. King

Hartford, Conn., Tallahassee, Fla., and Monticello and Greenburgh, N.Y.

North Carolina Gov. Dan Moore alerted National Guardsmen as a precaution against trouble in Greensboro and Raleigh.

Scattered gunshots were reported by Raleigh police.

There were no reported injuries.

New York Mayor John V. Lindsay rushed to the Harlem area where he has walked the streets in efforts to prevent violence, but was hustled into a car by aides and returned to his home after encountering unruly crowds.

Police officials ordered 7,000 men to remain on duty during the night on the New York streets.

The disturbances broke out first in Harlem, then spread to Brooklyn's Bedford-Stuyvesant section and nearby Crown Point and Fulton Street areas, and to East New York.

Widespread looting was reported in a Negro section of the nation's capital, where stores were broken into along a six-block section of 14th Street in the Northwest section.

Walter Washington, Negro mayor of the city, said there was "some property damage," but that the situation appeared under control. The police tactical squad—eight squad cars and a bus load of helmeted policemen—was sent to the area.

A crowd of Negroes threw stones at six police cruisers near a Negro housing project in Boston's Roxbury section. Cars carrying newsmen were stoned later by angry bands of youths in Roxbury.

One fireman and five other persons were reported injured by flying stones. Police reinforcements were sent into the area and blocked off two main thoroughfares.

Trouble broke out after Charles Evers, state field secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said he received a threatening telephone call.

Police set up barricades along the perimeter of the college area and campus police sealed off a main road through the campus.

Episodes of window breaking and looting flared in sections of Hartford and police closed five to six blocks of North Main Street to traffic. Several automobiles were stoned.

tion of the Hawaii conferences, this could be interpreted as a sign of panic and perhaps the very violence he was inveighing against.

—Equally important, Johnson apparently did not feel he should carry on business as usual lest he seem callous in the face of an act which Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said "brings shame to our country."

Humphrey spoke at a Democratic fund-raising dinner which Johnson had planned to address until he got word of the Memphis assassination. The dinner was called off after Humphrey's statement.

—Perhaps most important, Johnson could not be certain whether the King slaying would produce serious racial violence that would make his continued presence in Washington prudent, even though presidential communications permit him to act and react from anywhere in the world.

Johnson had planned to make

State Guard Unit Has Been Alerted

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The 175-man National Guard unit stationed at West Memphis was placed on alert Thursday night by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller in the wake of the assassination of civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. at Memphis.

The unit was placed on alert last week after King led a march in Memphis which turned into a riot.

Rockefeller also sent 30 Arkansas State Troopers to Memphis to be deputized, Rockefeller took the action at the request of Tennessee authorities.

Rockefeller said early Thursday that he was shocked by the death of King.

"I'm shocked that another act of violence has been injected into an already explosive situation," Rockefeller said in a prepared statement. "Murder under any circumstances is deplorable."

"Disturbing and distressing as this crime is to everyone, I call upon the people of Arkansas to remain calm and exercise restraint as responsible citizens," the governor said.

Movement Could Turn to Violence

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — "It was not," said the officer at police headquarters, "what we call a major disturbance."

Just some kids throwing rocks through the windows of stores along 14th street, he explained.

A man sitting on a case of dynamite, whistling to keep his mind off trouble, gives a more convincing picture of calm.

For in Washington, as everywhere in this country, people, white and black, instinctively expect violence to erupt.

There are several ways of looking at the phenomenon that was Martin Luther King Jr.

To the guilt-ridden he was a bodeviling reminder that at this late stage of human development the Negro still rides steerage.

To the well-meaning but anxious, he was the potential spark that someday might ignite a racial explosion in this country, one that could be set off as much by a man speaking words of nonviolence as by the most militant blood-and-guts thunderer.

But perhaps most of all, King looked like a last chance.

The Negro leaders of just a decade ago somehow seemed outdated and suddenly old. They spoke a language of a less-pressing time, of a day when the Negro movement inched along fitfully and counted its blessings for every inch.

Ahead loomed a new breed, terribly menacing to all but a small minority of Americans. The revolutionary language they speak reeks of violence. There appears no room for blessings.

Between the two, the outmoded past and a fearful future, stood King, appealing with an eloquence rarely matched in our time, to reason and peaceful brotherhood.

His followers have vowed to keep the nonviolent spirit. They're planning a peaceful march in Memphis Monday.

But it's no wonder the cop in Washington wasn't very convincing, that he seemed to be looking over his shoulder as he spoke.

an overnight flight to March Air Force Base, Calif., for a breakfast meeting with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, then fly on to Honolulu.

But, in mid-evening, he put off these plans and issued a statement, read personally on television-radio networks, which began:

"America is shocked and saddened by the brutal slaying to night of Dr. Martin Luther King."

"I ask every citizen to reject the blind violence that has struck Dr. King who lived by nonviolence."

Harking back to his dramatic announcement last Sunday that he was withdrawing from the 1968 presidential race because he wanted to heal deep divisions within the nation, Johnson said:

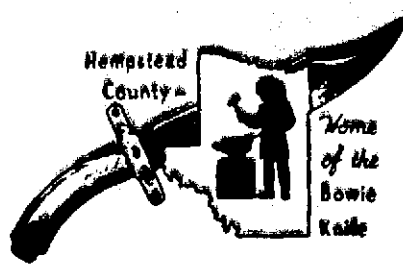

"We can achieve nothing by lawlessness and divisiveness among the American people. It is only by joining together and only by working together can we continue to move toward equality and fulfillment for all of our people."

"I hope that all Americans tonight will search their hearts as they ponder this most tragic incident."

Assassin Betrays
Those Who Believe in Democracy

Had it been Stokely Carmichael, loud-mouthed advocate of violence, you might have understood, but it wasn't; it was Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., fundamentally a man of peace, who was killed by an assassin in Memphis Thursday — and that's beyond understanding.

You might disagree with Dr. King's goals but you had to grant him the right of dissent and admire the fortitude and patience with which he pursued the time-honored democratic process — when less-gifted Negro leaders were turning to threats and violence.

It is a blow to the white establishment to learn that Memphis police believe King's assassin was a white man. Where assassins walk there is no safety for Presidents, or leaders of public causes, or even the obscurest private citizen. Open your mouth and you are dead — for an assassin is a one-man version of the police state.

The tragedy of civilization, however, is that every level of society has its evil members. Even a man of peace like Dr. King was betrayed on his previous visit to Memphis by hoodlums who broke away from the line of march and used his demonstration as an excuse for violence and looting.

In turn, the white establishment is confronted within its own ranks by murder.

America is dedicated to finding and executing Dr. King's assassin.

We have no choice. It's either the orderly democratic processes of our republic — or the assassins of a police state.

Group Favors Tax to Get Teacher Hikes

SPRINGDALE, Ark. (AP) — The Northwest Arkansas Schoolmaster's Club has adopted a resolution recommending that Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller raise taxes in order to meet a promised $500 annual pay increase for Arkansas school teachers.

J. R. Kennan, secretary of the club, told Rockefeller in a letter that the $500 increase for the 1968-69 school year "is a major concern to the future of education in Arkansas."

"We wish to advise that the club favors a tax increase if necessary to acquire this raise," the letter said.

Kennan said the present available revenues would make it necessary "to borrow from Peter to pay Paul," which he said might be good politics, but bad budgeting.

"If the state income and budget remains as it is, we can't help but run into a $3 million deficit," Kennan said. "This would mean a $300 a year increase instead of the promised $500 increase."

Bargaining Fails to End Strike

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An all-day bargaining session here Thursday failed to produce any changes in the 21-day-old strike at the National Lead Co. plant at Magnet Cove (Hot Spring County).

Chip Phillips, president of striking Local 4855 of the United Steel Workers, said today the "situation is unchanged." The local is seeking higher wages and changes in contract wording.

Postmaster Nominated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nomination of Jesse Doyle Jr., as postmaster at Geneva, Ark., and Hoyt L. Willmuth as postmaster at Swifton, Ark., were confirmed Thursday by the Senate.

Hanoi Says Partial Halt Not Enough

TOKYO (AP) — Hanoi said today the partial cessation of bombing of North Vietnam is not sufficient to show that the United States wants a peaceful settlement.

The statement was contained in a commentary of Nhan Dan, the organ of the North Vietnamese Workers (Communist) party, which was distributed by Radio Hanoi in a Japanese-language broadcast monitored here.

The article was entitled: "The U.S. has not given up its aggressive design," the broadcast said.

Nhan Dan said the fact that President Johnson promised the Saigon regime protection in his address of March 31 proved that the U.S. government had not abandoned its intent of aggression.

Johnson ordered on March 31 a partial halt in the bombing of North Vietnam, limiting strikes to an area south of the 20th Parallel.

WR Says His Brother Is a Candidate

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller is a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, according to his brother, Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller of Arkansas.

"He told me he thought he made it clear that he is a candidate," Winthrop Rockefeller said. "I think you'll find Nelson will be active this summer."

The New York governor said after the New Hampshire primary that he would not enter any primaries.

The Arkansas governor said Nelson's statement had caused some confusion but said his brother would clear the air within three days.

Winthrop said his brother had chosen not to enter the Oregon primary because of major state financial problems which would prevent him from campaigning actively.

He also said Nelson would present his position paper on the Vietnam war at a meeting of the National Association of News Editors in Washington.

In the Mad Scramble for Success a Man Has to Check Social Image

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — In the mad scramble for success today it is as important for a man to check his social image regularly as it is for him to have the oil changed in his automobile.

If his image isn't fairing so well, it is imperative that he do something about it real soon. Otherwise he'll lose status. And that's bad. A fellow without status is like the face on the clock in an airport terminal: easy to see but not worth remembering.

How can you tell for sure whether your image is okay? Well, it probably needs to be changed if—

Your wife is taking in laundry to help make ends meet, and her customers complain to you about the quality of her work.

The principal of the local reform school phones to tell you that one of your kids isn't doing well in his studies and the other is selling refters on the sly.

You've got a sore hand because when you reached out to pat your dog on the head he snarled and bit you.

The refrigerator in your kitchen is full of beer cans, but the cans are empty.

The crabgrass on your lawn is so thick that the guys who own the houses on either side of you are circulating petitions to get you thrown out of the neighborhood.

The local gendarme drops by to tell you confidentially that your elderly grandfather has been tossed into the clink again for starting a fight in a rowdy tavern on the wrong side of the railroad tracks.

LBJ's Advisers Split in Assessment of the Prospects for Peace

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's top advisers are split between hopeful and gloomy assessments of the prospects for successfully negotiating a peace settlement with North Vietnam.

The pessimistic mood is becoming stronger here as officials have time to recover from the rapid explosion of events since last Sunday and take stock of the underlying realities.

The greatest concern arises from the view of some experts that President Ho Chi Minh and his top officials may have miscalculated President Johnson's intention in stopping much of the bombing of North Vietnam and calling Sunday for talks on ending the war.

The most optimistic assessment is based on a belief that the North Vietnamese have been badly hurt in the intensive fighting that developed at the start of their general offensive in South Vietnam at the end of January.

According to this view they took very heavy casualties without achieving their major objectives and now face a deteriorating situation.

The gloomier outlook is voiced by those in the administration who see a misjudgment by North Vietnam as understandable against the backdrop of re-

Restoration Grant of $277,088

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Housing and Urban Development announced approval Thursday of a $277,088 grant to the Arkansas Territorial Restoration Commission.

The money, granted under the open space program, will be combined with $200,000 appropriation of the 1967 legislation. Of the grant, $200,000 was earmarked as matching money for the state appropriation and the rest is for costs such as demolition work that might be necessary.

The funds will be used to buy, landscape and provide an office-lecture building for the Territorial Capitol. The building will be located on a half block adjacent to the present grounds.

They note that in a short time span, Robert S. McNamara had stepped down as secretary of defense; Gen. William C. Westmoreland is about to leave as U.S. commander in Vietnam and President Johnson has announced he won't seek re-election.

"If you try to look at such things as these from Hanoi's point of view," said one expert, "it's not difficult to see how you could reach a conclusion that

Base Siege Lifted by the Enemy

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — The siege of Khe Sanh has been lifted, a senior U.S. officer said today, although late this afternoon the spearheads of the big relief force were still nearly a mile from the 6,000 Marine defenders of the combat base in the northwest corner of Vietnam.

"We've moved out and taken territory. The basic concept of the enemy besieging Khe Sanh is over," the senior officer said.

"There's no particular value in a hook-up. They're within a kilometer and a half of each other. It would be no effort to march together and to shake hands. The important thing now is that we're moving and we have other objectives."

With the 20,000-man relief force of Marines and air cavalrymen bearing down on Khe Sanh from three sides, a 500-man battalion of Marines on Thursday ventured farther outside the two square miles of fortress than any Leathernecks had since it was taken under siege 76 days ago.

The Marine battalion occupied a hill two miles southwest of Khe Sanh for the night and then was attacked before dawn by about 400 North Vietnamese. The Leathernecks drove off the attack, reported the enemy left 93 bodies in the barbed wire around the night camp, and said Marine casualties were extremely light.

It was the heaviest fighting of the five-day-old operation to open Highway 9, the only overland supply route to Khe Sanh, and relieve the base. Most of

Utilities Questioned on Activities

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Electric and gas utilities in Arkansas have been sent a questionnaire, prepared by the commissioner of the state Public Service Commission, concerning certain promotional activities.

The questionnaire was prepared by Commissioner Robert C. Downie at the suggestion of Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller.

Downie said the answers to the questionnaires are due in April 15 but only a few small companies had responded so far.

Downie said hearings might be held to determine whether the information provided by the firms is accurate.

The objective, according to Downie, was to determine whether the utilities were discriminating against some customers by the promotional practices and whether the cost of the practices were affecting utility rates.

President Delays Trip to Hawaii

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, postponing Vietnam policy talks in Honolulu, remained in Washington overnight after appealing to all Americans "to reject the violence" that brought death to Dr. Martin Luther King.

Johnson told a national television-radio audience Thursday night he had delayed departure for Hawaii until today. He had planned to leave in the middle of the night.

Afterward, press secretary George Christian quoted the President as saying he would decide later whether to go ahead at this time with the Honolulu meeting.

Johnson's initial uncertainty appeared to be dictated by at least three considerations:

— If the President immediately announced outright cancella-

Kill Whites, Carmichael Urges Negroes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Black power advocate Stokely Carmichael urged Negroes today to arm themselves with guns and take to the streets in retaliation for the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Carmichael told a news conference he wants black America to "kill off the real enemy."

"We have to retaliate for the death of our leaders," he said. "The execution of those debts will not be in the courtrooms. They will be in the streets of the United States of America."

"When white America killed Dr. King she opened the eyes of every black man in this country," Carmichael said.

Carmichael blamed President Lyndon B. Johnson and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., along with the rest of the nation's white population for the death of the Nobel Peace Prize winner.

"Bobby Kennedy pulled that trigger as much as anyone else," Carmichael said, charging the senator had failed to push for prosecution of slayers of Negro civil rights workers when he was attorney general.

The militant Black Power leader declared that violence that erupted in city after city across the nation after King was shot in Memphis is "just light stuff" when compared with "what will happen."

Assassination of King Triggers Violence in Cities Across Nation

Stores Looted by Bands of Negroes

By BRIAN SULLIVAN
Associated Press Writer
Violence burst out in cities across the country in the wake of the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. as bands of Negroes smashed windows, looted stores, threw firebombs and attacked police with guns, stones and bottles.

A white man was stabbed to death in the midst of violence in Washington, and a Negro died of stab wounds in New York, although it was not known if the latter death was related to the violence.

A white youth died in a fire at Tallahassee, Fla., which police said was started by a firebomb. Scores were injured, including about 50 in Washington, and several scores in New York.

Two Negro students of Mississippi Valley State College at Itta Bena, Miss., were wounded by pellets from shotguns fired by highway patrolmen trying to halt 300 student marchers. Police said shots had been fired from the crowd.

Snipers used guns and bows and arrows against police on the campus of Florida A. & M. University at Tallahassee, but no policemen were hurt.

Tallahassee Mayor Eugene Berkowitz and another city official were treated for minor cuts after rocks shattered the windows of their car.

In Detroit, two policemen were shot and wounded as they patrolled a Negro section, but that city escaped the street violence that erupted elsewhere.

In Memphis, where King died, police shot and critically wounded a man they said had been caught behind a store with a rifle.

More than 90 persons were arrested in Memphis and a like number in New York, and scores in other cities in the midst of the violence.

As word of Dr. King's death spread through Memphis, Negroes in scattered areas looted stores, stoned police and fire trucks and threw fire bombs. The violence continued today.

National Guard troops were rushed back to Memphis after having been pulled out only Wednesday. Troops also were sent into Nashville, where violence flared shortly after the shooting.

There were disturbances in

THE DEATH OF DR. KING
Police search for a white gunman in the shooting of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., whose assassination causes racial violence around the country and brings expressions of sorrow from the nation's leaders.

Violence occurs in a number of American cities following the slaying of Dr. King.

President Johnson appeals to all Americans to "reject the violence" that brought death to Dr. King. He postpones plans for Vietnam policy talks in Hawaii.

Many persons across the United States, including high officials and the man-in-the-street, voice prayers that the violence of Dr. King's death will not overshadow his philosophy of nonviolence.

Dr. King, who had learned to live with the constant threat of death, practiced what he preached—brotherly love.

"I do think it's the will of God," says Dr. King's widow. "We always knew this could happen."

"I have a dream—" was Dr. King's refrain in his speech at the 1963 march in Washington.

"The time has come for a return to mass nonviolence" was Dr. King's theme for a new demonstration in Washington.

North Vietnamese troops battle U.S. Marines two miles from Khe Sanh as the big relief column nears the besieged base.

POLITICS
Dr. King's violent death has an immediately disruptive effect on the 1968 political campaign. Some political leaders say it could continue to be a factor through the election in November.

Police at Memphis Seek Gunman
By BILL JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer
MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark said today that "substantial leads" had been developed in the hunt for the killer of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Clark said the slaying appeared to be the work of one man.

"We've got some substantial leads," Clark said, after flying here from Washington. "We're very hopeful. We've got some good breaks."

King's slaying Thursday sparked Negro violence across the nation, but most of it subsided at daybreak. And President Johnson delayed his departure for Hawaii and a strategy conference with U.S. officials from Saigon.

Clark told newsmen "there is no evidence at this time of any conspiracy."

President Johnson held a late morning meeting of civil rights leaders in the White House in the convulsive wake of reaction to the death Thursday night of the 39-year-old King.

King died in a Memphis hospital less than an hour after he was shot in the neck as he stood on the balcony of his motel. Police searched for a white gunman.

The Rev. Ralph Abernathy, newly named to succeed King as head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, called for silent marches Sunday around the nation in King's memory. He said he and other SCLC officials would return Monday to lead a silent march.

Memphis was relatively calm this morning after six hours of looting, arson and shootings set off Thursday night by the slaying. The dusk-to-dawn curfew was lifted this morning and National Guardsmen and police patrolled possible trouble areas.

The Memphis Press-Scimitar said police arrested a short, balding white man this morning as he left a rooming house near the shooting scene. He was reported turned over to the FBI, but the FBI agent in charge, Walter Hoppel said he had no information on the arrest.

King's widow flew to Memphis in a plane chartered by Sen. Robert F. Kennedy to claim the body of her slain husband. She remained aboard the plane at the airport.

The body, in a bronze casket, was put on view and hundreds of Negroes passed to pay their last respects. A large crowd was still at the funeral home when the casket was loaded into a hearse to be taken to the airport. As Abernathy closed the door on the hearse, he said: "Long live the king."

In Washington, Black Power advocate Stokely Carmichael urged Negroes to arm themselves with guns and take to the streets in retaliation for the assassination of King. He told a news conference he wants black America to "kill off the real enemy."

Carmichael blamed President Johnson and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy along with the rest of the nation's white population for the death of the Nobel Peace Prize-winner.

In the past Carmichael has advocated that Negroes arm themselves.

Johnson originally had planned to leave for Hawaii Thursday night and postponed it to early today, then postponed it again for the meeting with civil rights leaders, set for 11 a.m.

At the same time, Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark and three other federal officials were sped here in an Air Force jet.

A Justice Department spokesman in Washington said Clark planned to meet with members of King's family and with his colleagues, including Dr. Ralph Abernathy and Dr. Andrew
